2: HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY: GENERALLY

Entire Period

ALEXANDER, Arch. — Theories of the Will in Hist. of Philosophy — $1·50 c 8° Scribner, N.Y. 98

ALEXANDER, A. B. D. — A Short Hist. of Philosophy — 8/6 n. 8° MacLehose, Glasgow 07
$2·60 n. Macmillan, N.Y. The modern period is much better than the ancient, wh. is almost entirely uncritical.

BAX, E. Belfort — Handbook of the History of Philosophy — 5/c 8° Bell [86] 89
$1·50 n. Macmillan, N.Y. [Bohn's Lib.] Easier reading than SCHWEGLER and more up to date than TENNEMANN, but student must supplement it.

*ERDMANN, Prf. J. E. Hist. of Philosophy [tr.], ed. Prf. W. S. Hough, 3 vols. — 42/m 8° Sonnenschein [89]
$10·50 Macmillan. N.Y. Vol. i: Ancient and Mediæval, 15/; ii: Modern, 15; iii: Modern: Since Kant, 12/. A very learned, methodical, and luminous history, w. admirable criticisms and comprehensive bibliographies. Quite indispensable to the student of the hist. of philosophy and superior to any other general history. Tr. fr. 3rd edn. The 4th edn. of original, is ed. B. ERDMANN [son], 2 vols., 24*m.* 8° '96.

HEGEL, G. W. F. [1770–1831] Lectures on the History of Philosophy—ut C § 32
Practically an Introduction to his own philosophy under the name of a hist. of previous systems.

HOLLAND, F. May — Rise of Intellectual Liberty fr. Thales to Copernicus — $3·50 8° Holt, N.Y. 85

JANET, (Prf. Paul) + SÉAILLES (Dr G.) Hist. of Problems of Philos., 12 v. 10/ n. ea. ($6·50 n.) Macmillan 02
Tr. by Ada MONAHAN; ed. Dr Hy. JONES. Vol. i: Psychology; ii: Ethics, Metaphysics and Theodicy. An eminently useful, tho' not a great, work, wh. takes the problems wh. lie behind philosophy as guiding lines, examining the history of each in turn.

NOIRÉ, Ludw. — Developmt. of Philosophic Thought fr. Thales to Kant — 7/6 n. ($2·40 n.) 8° Macmillan 00

LEWES, G. H. — Biographical History of Philosophy — 3/6 8° Routledge [45–6]
$1·50 Dutton, N.Y. [Popular Library.] From the earliest Gk. philosophers to Comte.

" — History of Philosophy fr. Thales to Comte, 2 v. — 32/8° Longman [67] 80
Practically a new edn. of the former work: the biographical portion is the only part of much value.

MAURICE, Rev. F. D. — Moral and Metaphysical Philosophy, 2 vols. — 16/8° Macmillan [50–3] 73
i: to 13th cent.; ii: to 1800. Not suited to students, owing to its lack of definiteness. Prf. A. V. G. ALLEN'S Religious Progress [ut A § 49] forms a good complement to it.

PERRIN, R. St J. — The Evolution of Knowledge: review of philosophy — 6/c 8° Williams & N. 05

ROGERS, Prf. Arth. K. — Student's History of Philosophy — $2 n. (8/6 n.) c 8° Macmillan 01
Acc. of individual philosophers' contribns. to hist. of philos., but subordinated to the general idea of showing the hist. of philos. as the hist. of man's attempt to come to a knowledge of the world in wh. he is, and of his own nature in rel. to it.

SCHWEGLER, A. — History of Philosophy, tr. J. H. Stirling — 6/c 8° Oliver & Boyd, Edin. [63] 79
A clear and concise presentation of the history of philosophy: Hegelian point of view. Annotated.

TENNEMANN, W. G. — Manual of Hist. of Philosophy [tr.] — [Bohn's Lib.] 5/c 8° Bell [36]
His Geschichte der Philosophie (11 vols., 1798–9) has not been tr. This book is too brief to be of much value, but is useful as a repository of notices and references concerning philosophers.

UEBERWEG, Dr F. Hist. of Philosophy, fr. Thales to Pres. Time [tr.], 2 vols. — $5 r 8° Scribner, N.Y. [74] 85
39/ Hodder. i.: Anc. and Mediæval Philos., 18/; ii: Mod. Philos., 21/. Conts. admirable condensed exposn. of methods, and good bibliogs., ending, however, c. 1865.

WEBER, Prf. Alf. — History of Philosophy, tr. Prf. F. Thilly — $2·50 8° Scribner, N.Y. [96]
16/ Longman. Clear, simple and orderly, w. spec. good short accs. of PLATO, LEIBNITZ, and HEGEL. Bibliogr. and Index.

WINDELBAND, Prf. W. — History of Philosophy, tr. Prf. J. H. Tufts — $4 n. (21/ n.) 8° Macmillan [93] 01
A hist. of philosophy. acc. to topics, not of systems or of philosophers, the biograph. statmts. bg. very brief. A very learned but not very inspiring wk., tho' the ch. on KANT is admirable; the history of Patristic, Mediæval and Renaissance philosophy, if not so good as that of ERDMANN, is very useful. Select bibliographies given.

The standard Engl. tr., an exceedingly faithful version of PLATO's style and thought, tho' of next to no value as a 'crib', and 'above' the scientific side of philological scholarship. The Analyses are, generally speaking, la compendium of the tr., often almost identical in lang., displaying briefly, and with great discrimination and lucidity, the 'argument' in both senses of the Dialogues. The Introductions are a series of expanded elucidations of points raised by the Dialogues, at times little more than long notes, at times excursuses on larger points or portions of the Platonic matter (e.g. those on the Science of Lang., Psychol., Communism, Utilitarianism, the Platonic Ideas, the Philos. A valuable edn., cont. a mass of parallel passages fr. contemp. writers, and discussns. on obscure or antiquarian points. Spelling modernized [Mark Pattison pleads that 'to modernize the spelling of a classic is nothing less than to deface one of the monuments of the language', and this is spec. true of Bacon]; and, though intended for the common reader, chiefly valuable for the historical student, as the use made of contemp. trs., Lat., Fch. and Ital., for elucid. of text is systematic and thorough, and the disserts. upon Baconian theories of polit. econ., usury, commerce, plantations, pts. of law and judicial procedure, politics and history of the day, highly valuable. Aldis WRIGHT's edn. is still the best for the general reader.

The Critique of Pure Reason attempts to discover extent of pure or a priori knowl. as opposed to empirical or a posteriori knowl. The Critique of Practical Reason seeks to establish the pure or a priori principles of Reason in its practical expressn. as Will. The supreme principle of the Pure Practical Reason, i.e. the supr. law of the Will, is : 'Act in conformity w. that maxim, and that maxim only, wh. you can at the same time will to be a universal law'. This is a principle pure or a priori, and is indept. of the actual experience of an action's pleasurable or painful consequs. In both Critiques Kant deals w. the pure or a priori elemts. of experience ; but in first Critique he is occup. w. experience as knowledge and in second w. experience as morality.

MAHAFFY (Prf. J. P.) + BERNARD (Dr. J. H.) Kant's Critical Philosophy for Engl. Readers, 2 vols.
13/6 ($3·25) c 8° Macmillan [72–4] 89
i: 7/6 ($1·75); ii: 6/ ($1·50). Vol. i is an Explanation and Defence of the Critique of Pure Reason; ii is tr. of the Prolegomena. Conciseness is the 'note' of vol. i, wh., however, has in this sec. edn. lost its most characteristic feature, viz. its vigorous attack on the Association-psychology of MILL and BAIN (1st ed., ch. iv). Vol. ii contg. the tr. of Proleg. (so indispensable for KANT's central doctrine), is invaluable.

JONES, Prf. Hy. Critical Acc. of Philos. of Lotze (Doctr. of Thought) 6/n. c 8° MacLehose, Glasgow 95
$1·90 n. Macmillan, N.Y. An acute and vigorous destructive criticism, fr. the neo-Hegelian standpt., of LOTZE's Logic and of his school (now so popular in England and in France), which seeks to uphold traditional opinions by bringing reason into subjection to the emotions and the will. Author's contention is that 'the main contribn. of LOTZE to philos. thought, the only ultimate contribn., consists in deepening that Idealism wh. he sought to overthrow. He yields a tergo, and as an unwilling witness, an idealistic conceptn. of the world' ; and he thus seeks throughout to re-inculcate HEGEL's fundamental tenet.

* $1·50 n. Macmillan, N.Y. [Bohn's Lib.] Die Vierfache Wurzel was SCHOPENHAUER's earliest pubn., wr. in his 26th yr., for his doctor's exam. (1813), a dissertn. wh., he himself says, 'became the substructure for the whole of my system'. By the Principle of Sufficient Reason is meant that 'nothing is without a reason for its being', and its fourfold root is based in Logical, Physical, Mathematical, and Moral necessity. The other essay consists of 'corroborations of the author's philos.' received fr. the empirical sciences.

*JAMES, Prf. Wm. The Principles of Psychology, 2 v. [25/ n. Macmillan] $6 8° Holt, N.Y. [90] 01

A bk. for the advanced student and teacher. Prob. the most thorough and original treatise on psychol. wr. in Engl. since SPENCER'S Princ. of Psychol. [1855]. Regards psychol. as a branch of positive general knowl. accepting the broad distinctns. of pract. experience. Its style is brilliant and sparkling, occas. even mirthful (as might be expected fr. a brother of Hy. JAMES, jun., the novelist), as well as profound. Its chief drawback is its piecemeal treatmt., due to 10, out of the 28, chs. hg. appeared prev. (in whole or in pt.) in periodicals, and hg. been little, if at all, worked up. Very long quotns. are incl. In spite of length of bk. (c. 1,400 pp.) Pleasure and Pain, and Moral and Æsthet. feelgs. and judgmt. are not treated.

17/ n. Heinemann. Something more than a 'reply' to LOMBROSO and NORDAU, as author's investigns. began long before these authors were heard of; yet it forms the most elaborate, if occas. obscure, refutn. we have of their thesis. Introd. Dr G. MENDEL. Contents: Limits of Insanity; Psychol. of Genius; Genius and Insanity; Degeneration; Influ. of Educn. upon Genius; Secular Hysteria; Art and Insanity; Wagner and Psychopathol.

LOMBROSO, Prf. C. The Man of Genius [tr.]; ill. [Cont. Science Ser.] 3/6 c 8° Scott 91
$1·25 Scribner, N.Y. Regards genius, and even talent, as a disease, every mind diverging fr. the common order being apparently ipso facto insane. Capably written, but his theory is overdone.

NISBET, J. F. Insanity of Genius and General Inequality of Human Faculty physiol. considered 3/6 c 8° De La More Press [89]
Author's standpt. is that genius, like 'insanity, idiocy, scrofula, rickets, gout, consumption', is a morbid form, differing fr. insanity, not in kind nor even in degree, but rather in respect of the cerebral areas unduly excited. The bk. is very 'readable', being full of examples of neuropathic incidts. taken fr. lives of remarkable men and deviatns. fr. the norm, in bodily or mental hist. of their ancestors. This inductive survey occupies ab. two-thirds of bk., remg. third contg. descrn. of phys. basis of mind, a crit. of phrenol., and exam. of heredity in rel. to genius.

* ,, + MAITLAND (F. W.) History of English Law before Edward I, 2 v. 40/r 8° Camb. Pr. [95] 98
A very learned, scholarly, and luminous wk. setting forth the law as it stood at period betw. 1154 and 1272 (the age of GLANVILL and of BRACTON) in non-techn. lang., ill. by a wealth of first-hand knowledge and abundance of suggestion. 'Of all the centuries the twelfth is the most legal' and the middle of that cent. (the authors assert) was the most critical point in the developmt. of Eng. law. They are of opinion that the law wh. prevailed bef. coming of Normans was, in the main, pure Germanic, and are unable to assign any definite share to anc. Brit. law and custom.

*MARSHALL, Prf. Alf. Principles of Economics, vol. i 12/6 n. ($4 n.) 8° Macmillan [90] 10
Of capital importance. Regardg. econ. laws and reasongs. as merely pt. of material wh. conscience and 'common-sense' have to turn to acc. in solving pract. probls., it reconstructs whole body of doctrs. on broader grounds, givg. spec. prominence not only to the ethical quality of motives, but also to sagacity, energy, and enterprise. Displays a rare power of lucid exposn. and a profound grasp of econ. theory, alike in its histor. devel. and its pract. applicns. The most important bk. on economics since MILL'S Principles.

,, Elements of Economics, vol i: Economics of Industry 3/6 ($1 n.) c 8° Macmillan [92] 05

Primogeniture

CECIL, Evelyn — Primogeniture : short hist. of its developmt. in var. countries and its practical effect — 10/6 8° Murray 95

A pop. treatise of interest here for the views expressed as to value of great landlords and remarks on subj. of small properties and morcellement. The Germ. portn. is exceptionally good, and throughout the economical better than the historical side.

Early Writers

JONES, Rich. [1790–1855] — Peasant Rents — [Economic Classics] 3/ n. (75 c. n.) c 8° Macmillan 95

JONES succeeded MALTHUS as Prf. of Pol. Econ. and Hist. at East India Coll., and was the most systematic and thoroughgoing of the earlier critics of the Ricardian system. Peasant Rents is the first half of his Essay on Distribn. of Wealth and on Sources of Taxatn., described by MILL as 'a copious repertory of valuable facts on the landed tenures of different countries'.

S., W. — Discourse of Common Weal of this Realm, ed. Eliz. Lamond — 5/ c 8° Camb. Press [1581] 93

$1·40 n. Putnam, N.Y. Ed. fr. earliest kn. MS.: that of LAMBARDE, Kentish antiquary (wr. 1565). In 3 Dialogues betw. a knight, a 'merchaunte', a doctor, a husbandman and a 'capper' (maker of woollen caps). Full of quaint econ. notions, and of consid. histor. interest. Edr. attribs. authorship to Sir Thos. SMYTHE or Jno. HALES (rns. HY. viii or EDW. vi), favourg. latter. In 1751 edn. publisher ascribed it to W(ILLIAM) S(HAKESPEARE)! It has been previously printed (but not fr. this MS.), sub tit. Examination of Complaints in 1751, in Harleian Misc. (10 v. 1808–13), The Pamphleteer [29 v. 1813–28] and in New Shakesp. Relation of Labour Combinations to Law

BRENTANO, Prf. L. Relation of Labour to Law of To-day [tr.] ; w. Introd. $1·50 (6/) f 8° Putnam 91
A bad tr. of a compact little treatise, wh. conts. all main positions of the author of the famous Die Arbeitergilden der Gegenwart, 2 vols. (12m. 8° Duncker-Leipz. '71-2). Regards Tr. Unions as an inevit. outcome of mod. industr. condns., furnishg. a hope that positn. of masses may be improved without a violent reconstrn. of society. The spec. originality of the Arbeitergilden, wr. when author was 25 yrs. old, consisted in its applicn. to Tr. Unions of the historic method, wh. has yielded such valuable results on var. econ. questns. and its conseq. tracing of their pedigree in Teutonic world far back into Mid. Ages, showg. analogy of social movemts of to-day w. those of former days.

A thoroughly sound piece of work, the first formal attemnt w. any systematic method since BRENTANO [ut sup.] to deal w. place in mediaeval civil life of almost all Engl. towns occup. by trade gilds. Eccles. and social gilds (w. wh. Engl. had little to do) are not treated, but craft-gilds are incid. discussed. To the acc. of Gild Mercht. several essays are added by way of Appendix (Affiliation of Mediæval Boroughs and others almost equally valuable); and vol. ii is filled w. 'proofs and illns.', i.e. a ser. of documts. extr. fr. pub. records, notices in county hists., charters, compotus accts., etc. The two most import. chs. (Distinction betw. Gild and Borough and Influence of Gild upon Munic. Constitn.) clearly prove that the Gild fr. very beginning was a separate entity, not to be confounded w. the Borough. Good Index and glossary.

Socialism is, for the author, a programme of gradual reform effected by recognized political machinery, springing partly fr. necessities of econ. change, partly fr. revolt agst. chaos and injustice of pres. condns., and based fundam. on conceptn. of society as an organism w. individuals as cells in that organism.

MARX, Karl [1818–83] Capital [tr.], ed. F. Engels, 2 vols. ea. 10/6 8° Sonnenschein [86] 07; 07
Ea. $2 Kerr, Chicago. The most influential systematic wk. in economics yet wr. by any Socialist—the chief foundatn.-stone on wh. Socialist propaganda was based: its Theory of Value, however, has been long since abandoned by more intelligent Socialists, and is indeed as good as dropped in the 2nd (posth.) vol., which was left by author in chaotic state and has been put (more or less) into shape by ENGELS.

BOSANQUET, Hel. [Mrs. B.] The Strength of the People 8/6 n. ($2·75 n.) 8° Macmillan [02] 02
The strength of the people is character (espec. as created or modif. by tyranny of interest), mainly distinguished by independce. The family is the unit tow. preservn. of wh. all efforts shd. be directed and its econ. independence the goal of all social endeavour. Auth. demonstrs. how this can be attained from the Chalmers experimt. in Glasgow, and how it can be frustrated fr. records of Poor Law. To this test all pres. social movemts. are brought—Old-age Pensns., feedg. and clothg. of schl.-childr., out-relief, etc.

" — A Modern Utopia; ill. [$1·50 n. Scribner, N.Y.] 7/6 c 8° Chapman [05]
Under a thin veil of fictn., compls. the trilogy of WELLS' bks. confg. his views on society of future. His Utopia is a World-State (not a mere city like PLATO's) w. a world-lang. State is govd. by 'voluntary nobility', w. 4 classes in it, the Poietic, the Kinetic, the Dull, the Base: former two 'constitute the living tissue of the State; latter are the fulcra and resistances—the bone and cover of its body'. Caste has no place—it is evoln. of fittest th. counts. Govt. is in hands of 'Samurai'—volunteers, leadg. a life fixed for them by system wh. interdicts tobacco, wine, meat, usury, acting, singing, etc., and enforces chastity, but not necess. celibacy. Motherhd. subsidized; no 'human stud-farms', but marrges. licensed only after due inquiry; and so on. BRADSHAW, Hy. On the A B C as Authorized Sch.-bk. in 16 Cent.—in his Coll. Papers, ut K § 3
This was a first bk. for childr., contg. not only alphabet but also elemts. of relig. instrn. BRADSHAW draws attentn. to edns. fr. 1538–88, and shows that something v. like it existed down to 1852 in Estab. Ch. of Scotl. An interesting contribn. to hist. of mediev. schl.-bks.

COMENIUS, Bp J. A. [1592–1671] Orbis Pictus—ut D § 161

FIELD, Mrs E. M. —in her The Child and his Book 6/ c 8° Wells Gardner [91] 92
Tho' this study is purely literary and fr. the outside, it is full of interest to studt. of hist. of Engl. educn. Commencg. w. earliest times (Druids!) and passg. thro' Mid. Ages to Puritan times, when children all became 'miserable little sinners', it ends at 1826; since wh. time author wisely refrains fr. mentiong. more than a few names. Her bk. forms excellent mémoires pour servir, and is v. interesting.
